000 00 00 000 000 000 00 000 000 000 000 000

rd Game Book Pro

The Project

0

0 0

0 0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

00

0

0

000000

0

0

0

0

0

0 0

0

0

Create a board game based on your book.

The Details

- Your board game should incorporate the setting,
- characters, and plot of your book. Your game should include:
  - A board that is used to play the game. Include the title of the book and the author somewhere on the board.
  - o Markers, cards, spinner, dice, and anything else needed to play the game.
  - o Instructions explaining how the game is played.

Tips for Success

- ✓ Poster board makes a good game board. You could also use the inside of a large file folder.
- ✓ Be sure to plan your game board out before you begin drawing.
- ✓ The easiest way to incorporate parts of the story is to include them on the board. Players can advance spaces for good things that happen and go back spaces for bad things.
- ✓ You can also use cards and the markers to incorporate story elements.
- ✓ You will need to devise a method for moving from start to finish. Consider dice, cards, or a spinner.
- ✓ Be sure your directions are sequential and easy to understand.

Name	Due Date
Title of Book

000 00 00 000 000 000 00 000 000 000 000

0

0

٥

0

O

0

0

O

0

0

0

0

0 0

0

0

0 0

Overall

Board game is based on the book.
Board game includes everything needed to play the game and directions.

Guality
Board game is carefully made, visually appealing and fun to play.
Writing is neat, with correct spelling, grammar, and punctuation.

Accuracy
Characters and events in the game are consistent with the book.
Directions for play are clear, complete, and well sequenced.

Teacher Comments:

Total Score

NameBook Title
<ul> <li>Overall</li> <li>Board game is based on the book.</li> <li>Board game includes everything needed to play the game and directions.</li> </ul>	ections.
<ul> <li>Quality</li> <li>Board game is carefully made, visually appealing and fun to play.</li> <li>Writing is neat, with correct spelling, grammar, and punctuation.</li> </ul>
Accuracy • Characters and events in the game are consistent with the book. • Directions for play are clear, complete, and well sequenced.
Teacher Comments:
	Total Score	